

WELTON VILLAGE LIBRARY AND COMMUNITY HUB

The library re-opened in April, with some semblance of normality thankfully returning as people are once again able to browse and select books themselves. We continue to abide by Covid-19 guidance to ensure volunteers and borrowers are kept safe and this will be adjusted to reflect any changes to government and library service guidance.

We hope that members who have used the library service in the past will start to come back through our doors and that others who have perhaps been enjoying more reading in lockdown will continue with that and look to join the library. Do remember that it is a free service that is provided with the support of Welton Parish Council and Lincolnshire County Council, which means it is not just the printed word but also provides access at home to ebooks, magazines and even music.

We are keen to encourage more children to come along with their parents and enjoy the many books we have for them to explore. Being a library member means that parents can save money on books and the children can save pocket money. In addition, we like to celebrate Elmer Day; he is the elephant that makes the world a much brighter place, and this year his special day is at the end of May. So please keep an eye out for the exact date of our celebration with crafts and stories for younger children to enjoy.

Finally, our hours are currently slightly restricted as shown below.
