

STONECLIFF PARK

1st October is Lincolnshire Day.

Nah then, well, we've ed sum owry owd weather la-etly, n if that's summer, let's see wot back end can do, cos it can't be much woss! Unless yuh get a do-ass of that owd Covid. That'll mek yur eyes watter! Howivver, as soon as thow'd bairns were back i school the sun shone summat rotten; oh lors, I ed to cast me gansy - else I shudda mawked!! Hey up, ass letta go-ah cos he's back.

S'truth these old North Lindsey Yellow Bellies.

So, 1st October sees our autumn coffee morning and tabletop sale, from 9am to 11am, featuring our resplendent cake stall. Raffles, refreshments, games of chance, bric-a-brac, bargains galore, garden equipment, electrical and domestic items. But don't take my word for it, come and see for yourselves; splash the cash and lighten the load.

As I write, I understand that our scarecrow is ready to take his place at the Park entrance. Some folks have a gate guardian sentry or a "Constibule", we have a scarecrow! A huge vote of thanks to Marilyn and Marion for their efforts, and talent.

Work is almost complete on our life size "soldier" which will grace our 2021 poppy memorial, and poppies are being knitted to supplement last year's superb display. To all concerned - good on yer!!
