

STONECLIFF PARK

Well, as a club we are back up and running, albeit uptake on some of the activities we have on offer is a bit slow at the time of writing. But, with people being cautious regarding mixing with crowds and social distancing being still uppermost in members' minds, a plethora of conflicting official information, and the rapid spread of new cases of Covid in Lincoln and West Lindsey being on every local news bulletin, it's no wonder members are erring on the side of caution. One piece of good news, and an item to gladden the heart of every treasurer, was the result of our latest coffee morning and tabletop sale, when we raised a magnificent £612.72. My thanks to all involved. Our next coffee morning is the annual Macmillan fund-raiser on Friday 24th September. Watch out for the posters! The next club coffee morning and tabletop sale is on Friday 1st October (Lincolnshire Day!) from 9am to 11.30am.

Our garden of contemplation continues to provide a place of tranquillity to sit and ponder life. Soon, we hope to plant a suitable specimen rose, dedicated to the memory of members and residents who have passed on and could not be honoured during the lockdown periods. The idea is to follow the planting with an all-encompassing wake honouring the memory of the departed.
